The Pain Point of Prometheans

While association leadership programs surround us, the complex issues we face require the best expertise out there. That's where the Prometheus Leadership Retreat comes in. Prometheans are senior association executives and consultants who come together to enrich their leadership practice through a personalized, unique and valuable network.

What Sets the Prometheus Leadership Retreat Apart?

Over the course of two and a half days, Prometheans share their hunger for learning, continual self-improvement and the advancement of the association management profession.

- Open space format: The content is our own, or that of our peers, ensuring confidentiality and relevance at the right level. There are no speakers or PowerPoints.
- Retreat atmosphere: The Retreat offers an unhurried, safe space to explore the complex, multi-layered problems facing association leaders.

Commit to Your Inner Promethean – Join us in May 2020

For more about the Promethean mythology, and to secure your seat at the table, visit www.prometheusretreat.org. Full registration of $595 and a housing commitment is due by April 13 – we are limited to the first 35 registrants!
